All Aboard for the Inaugural Polar Express Pajama Party at the National Naval Aviation Museum

Pensacola, Fla. – (Nov. 11, 2016) The magic of “The Polar Express” pulls into the National Naval Aviation Museum for the first-ever ‘Polar Express’ pajama party this holiday season. The Polar Express will screen at 3 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday beginning November 26 through December 18, with an additional showing on Friday, Dec. 23.

Children are encouraged to wear their pajamas for the magical journey to the North Pole to find the true spirit of Christmas. The 2004 film is based on the children’s book of the same title by Chris Van Allsburg.

Once onboard, all children who wear their pajamas to the movie will receive a free cup of hot chocolate and cookie from the refreshment counter. Ticket prices are $6 per person. Tickets are available for purchase in person at the museum ticket counter.

About the National Naval Aviation Museum

The National Naval Aviation Museum, one of TripAdvisor’s “Top 25 Museums in the United States,” features nearly 350,000 square feet of displays and is one of the world’s largest aviation museums. Located aboard Pensacola Naval Air Station, the facility boasts more than 150 beautifully restored aircraft representing Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard aviation, and is one of Florida’s most visited museums. Be sure to visit Hangar Bay One, displaying aircraft of the post-WWII era including presidential helicopter, Marine One. Among the countless things to touch, see and experience are thrilling 3D and HD flight simulators and the new Blue Angels 4D Experience. Don’t miss the drama and power of the new laser powered Giant Screen digital theater. The Cubi Bar Café offers a unique dining experience, and the Flight Deck Store is the perfect place to find a souvenir that captures the spirit of Naval Aviation. Museum admission is FREE and open to the public. The National Naval Aviation Museum is open daily from 9 a.m.–5 p.m. For more information, visit www.NavalAviationMuseum.org.
