

GSTC GED Classes are Up and Running

George Stone Technical Center (GSTC) is offering Adult Basic Education/GED classes on the main campus and also three outlying sites. They have open enrollment and students may enroll anytime throughout the year.

Classes are actively taught by certified teachers and personalized instruction is given based on each student's academic level.

"We have the proven prescription for success to pass the GED test. We use direct instruction, as well as materials that are aligned to the actual content of the GED test," said Patricia Harrison, a, ECSD Counselor at GSTC. "When students are ready to take the test, they can feel confident and assured of a passing score."

GED classes on GSTC's main campus on Longleaf Drive are held Monday through Friday offering class times in the morning, afternoon, and evening. Classes start on the main campus on August 10th.

If this location is not convenient, students may attend classes at one of the 3 outlying sites. GED classes are held at:

- Pathways for Change every Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday from 9:30 am till 12:00. Free childcare is offered at the Pathways for Change site.
