Military Times names Pensacola State College in list of Best for Vets: Colleges 2017

PENSACOLA, Fla. – Military Times names Pensacola State College in its Best for Vets: Colleges 2017 list based on a comprehensive survey of veteran and military student offerings and rates of academic achievement.

“The Military Times Best for Vets distinction recognizes your school for its commitment to educating and providing opportunities to America’s veterans, service members and families,” said Amanda Miller, editor of Military Times’ Best for Vets.

Pensacola State ranks 130 among four-year colleges and universities. Military Times recognizes the top 175 institutions out of more than 500 two-year, four-year and nontraditional schools that submitted detailed surveys. This is the second consecutive year PSC has made the Best for Vets list.

Military Times’ annual survey asks colleges and universities to meticulously document an array of services, special rules, accommodations and financial incentives offered to students with military ties and to describe many aspects of veteran culture on campus.

Military Times also factors in data from the Veterans Affairs and Defense Departments, as well as three Education Department sources: the IPEDS Data Center, College Scorecard data and the Cohort Default Rate Database.

“Over the last six decades, Pensacola State has built a firm foundation for meeting the educational needs of our students who are active duty military, veterans and dependents. We are honored to receive this national recognition,” said PSC President Edward Meadows.
