The Rides Coming to Rock the Saenger Stage Featuring Stephen Stills, Kenny Wayne Shepherd and Barry Goldberg

PENSACOLA, Fla. – Rock-blues legends, Stephen Stills, Barry Goldberg and Kenny Wayne Shepherd known as The Rides, will perform on the Saenger stage on April 3, 2017 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for this show are $85.00, $55.00, and $45.00 (plus applicable service charge) and go on sale to the public on Friday, December 2, 2016 at 10 a.m. at ticketmaster.com, charge by phone by calling 800-745-3000, or online at ticketmaster.com.

The Rides ongoing freewheeling journey is all there in the name. Stephen Stills calls "the blues band of my dreams," the two-time Rock and Roll Hall of Famer, five time Grammy nominated guitar great Kenny Wayne Shepherd and renowned Chicago rock/blues keyboardist Barry Goldberg knew it was more than just a one-time, multi-generational fusion of legendary musical souls. They envisioned--and have since set out upon--a dynamic, wide-open road ahead.

The trio laid the simmering groundwork for all this by calling their debut album "Can't Get Enough" because once they started writing, recording and jamming together, they couldn't. Just before its release, Stills said, "As good as I think The Rides are now, we can't wait to get some live gigs under our belt." Goldberg echoed, "As proud as we are of the album, fans are going to see something even more exciting from us when we start playing these songs live." And they did.
