

STEM-Talk

THE MOST INTERESTING PEOPLE IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Dear IHMC Friends,

We are thrilled to roll out our new podcast, "STEM-Talk." The podcast features interviews with leading experts in science, engineering and technology. Join us to listen to indepth conversations about the research that drives them, their educational path and personal passions that make them who they are as scientists. Think of them as profiles in science.

STEM-Talk debuts on March 15th with three interviews: Dr. Peter Attia, Brother Guy Consolmagno, and Dr. Rhonda Patrick.

To read the show notes from the interviews and link to guests' books and lectures, please visit our STEM-Talk web site at stemtalk.us

Please subscribe on iTunes or Stitcher and listen to these fascinating interviews. If you enjoy STEM-Talk, please leave us a 5-Star review as it will really help us get the word out. Also tell your friends and colleagues about us.

Initially, we will release a new episode each Tuesday during the month of March.
After that look for a new episode every other Tuesday.

Below are the first three episodes.

Hope you enjoy them,

Ken

---

Episode 1

Dr. Peter Attia

How to Live Longer and Better

---

LISTEN TO EPISODE

Episode 2

Brother Guy Consolmagno

Vatican Astronomer

---

LISTEN TO EPISODE

Episode 3

Dr. Rhonda Patrick

Why Your Genes Influence What You Should Eat

---

LISTEN TO EPISODE

Subscribe to iTunes

Subscribe

Subscribe to Stitcher

Subscribe

 Contact Us

40 South Alcaniz Street

Pensacola, Florida 32502

850.202.4462

 IHMC

Research that makes a difference

STEM-Talk: The most interesting people in the world of science and technology

IHMC © 2016 All Rights Reserved

webversion | unsubscribe