Escambia County School District Graduations Will Be Live Streamed

Pensacola, FL: The Escambia County School District will be providing an opportunity to view all 2016 high school graduations via live stream on the district's home page. School district employees are asked to help spread the word to families with this news.

"We are excited to offer this service again this year to our students and their family members who may not be able to attend this milestone event," explained Malcolm Thomas, Escambia County School District Superintendent. "Last year was the first time we offered the viewing of graduations on live stream."

"More graduation ceremonies are being included this year. The broadcast for each event will begin approximately 15 minutes prior to the scheduled start time to allow everyone time to access the ceremony via an internet connection."

"This is especially beneficial for military family members who are stationed overseas," Thomas added. The link will be located in the upper right on the Escambia County School District Families page the day of the event at: <http://www.escambiaschools.org/>.
