Blues in the City is back!

Ready to rock with the solos? The City of Pensacola and the Blue Angels Association have rescheduled the previously cancelled forum and are now inviting the public to get up close and personal with members of the Navy's elite flight demonstration squadron.

The Blue Angels Association and the City of Pensacola are continuing their 70th anniversary season partnership with themed forums. These forums allow the public to interact with members of the team in a casual-conversational environment. The event begins with introductions and background information on the team and then opens up for questions.

The forum will focus on the solos. The solos showcase the high performance capabilities of their individual aircraft through the execution of very slow and high-speed maneuvers experiencing anywhere from -3 to 7.5 times the force of gravity. Most of the show alternates between maneuvers performed by the Diamond Formation and those performed by the Solos.

Special guest for the July 11th event will be former Naval Air Station Pensacola Commanding Officer, and former lead solo Keith Hoskins. Mr. Hoskins served with the Blue Angels from 1999 to 2001. Lt. Ryan Chamberlain (Blue Angel #5) will represent the current team on the panel.

Who: Blue Angels

What: Solos in the City Open Forum

When: Monday, July 11th at 6:00 p.m.

Where: Plaza De Luna

Forum goers should bring lawn chairs or blankets for seating. The National Naval Aviation Museum will also be in attendance with historical Blue Angels items. Mobile food vendors will also be onsite. There will be time for autographs, photos and Blue Angel takeaway materials.

Please join us as we continue our appreciation for our home team. To get more information and to stay updated with any changes, be sure to visit the event page.
