

Jazz at Jackson's: Ellen Sings with Bobby van Deusen

Join us at Jackson's Steakhouse on Thursday, September 8, for our latest installment of "Jazz at Jackson's."

The featured performers for the evening are vocalist Ellen Vinson accompanied by noted pianist Bobby van Deusen. Together, they will present a program featuring many jazz standards of songs by composers with enduring popularity highlighting the American Songbook. In addition, they will perform a number of Broadway favorites.

Ellen Vinson has loved singing jazz as long as she can remember. Although she graduated with a major in elementary education, she began college as a music major, singing jingles for radio and television in Tallahassee. Additionally, Ellen taught elementary school for over 30 years. Ellen is always excited to have a chance to share her interpretation of jazz classics, songs that tell a story, and never go out of style. Recently she has enjoyed performing at Jackson's for our annual "Jazz at Jackson's" events as well as for events benefitting nonprofit organizations such as The Pensacola Symphony Guild, Independence for the Blind, the Pensacola Museum of Art, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Northwest Florida, American Camellia Society, The Global Learning Center, Pensacola Sports Association and Pensacola Opera.
