"This year, in addition to local and regional bands, we've been able to secure national touring bands that have played along the Gulf Coast," said the show's Executive Producer Bill Harrell.

"I don't think we've had a season like this before where so many of the bands have brand new albums out, which fits perfectly with our mission to showcase musicians playing original music. We encourage people to check them out online, download their music and then come hear them perform live in the Amos Performance Studio."

"With free admission, it's a great deal for music fans, and it's fun to be part of the live studio audience while we tape the shows."

"StudioAmped" airs on WSRE Thursdays at 9 p.m. followed at 10 p.m. by the award-winning PBS staple, "Austin City Limits"—the longest-running music program on television. Encore presentations of "StudioAmped" air Wednesdays at 10 p.m., and past episodes can be viewed online at wsre.org/studioamped.
